

Book Title:

Author:

Genre:

Grammar Focus: _____

Reading Skill: _____

Monday Pages: _____ Fluency: _____ Signature (AFTER proofreading): _____

Task: Narratives contain a beginning, middle, and end. Draw a picture for each section and describe the plot below in sentences.

Beginning	Middle	End

Beginning: _____

Middle: _____

End: _____

Question: _____ CB: _____

Answer: _____ right wrong

Tuesday Pages: _____ Fluency: _____ Signature (AFTER proofreading): _____

Task: Describe the setting (where and when this passage takes place). Include interesting adjectives and descriptive language.

Task: Select a character. Describe his/her appearance (looks), traits (personality), and motives (why he/she does certain things).

Circle ONE author's purpose for these pages and explain why you selected it: to entertain to explain to inform to persuade

Question: _____ CB: _____

Answer: _____ right wrong

Wednesday Pages: _____ Fluency: _____ Signature (AFTER proofreading): _____

Task: Describe one cause (the reason why something happens) and its effect (what happens because of the cause).

Task: Write one fact (something that can be proven true) from the reading: _____

Task: Write one opinion (a belief that cannot be proven true) from the reading: _____

Task: Make a connection between the reading and something in your own life: _____

Question: _____ CB: _____

Answer: _____ right wrong

Thursday Pages: _____ Fluency: _____ Signature (AFTER proofreading): _____

Task: Explain an important conflict (problem) in the story. Describe the events that have led up to it in chronological (time) order.

Task: Describe the resolution (solution) to this conflict. If there is no resolution, predict how you think it is going to be solved.

Task: Choose a word you do not know from the text: _____. Use a dictionary/thesaurus to fill in the following.

part of speech: _____ synonym(s): _____ antonym(s): _____

Definition: _____

Question: _____ CB: _____

Answer: _____ right wrong

Random Act of Kindness: _____
